

Fly the Flag
For the Heroes

OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES

Paid Circulation Guaranteed Greater Than Any Other Evening Newspaper Published in Oklahoma

VOL. XXXI. No. 55

SIXTEEN PAGES—OKLAHOMA CITY, THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1919

Published Daily Except Sunday,
40c per month, $5.00 per year, in advance.

LATE STREET
EDITION

PRICE, TWO CENTS

142ND LEAVES CITY FOR CAMP BOWIE

OTHER 36TH UNITS VISIT TOMORROW

Engineers, M. G. Unit and Supply Train to Arrive.

PLAN ANOTHER PARADE

All Units Expected to Reach
City at 8 o'clock.

Three remaining units of the Thirty-sixth division which will visit Oklahoma City this week will parade here tomorrow morning according to W. A. Brooks, chairman of the reception committee. Plans for the reception of these three units—the 11th engineers, the 11th supply train and the 131st machine gun battalion—are identical to those carried out this morning for the 142nd infantry.

Brooks has solicited the assistance of all Oklahoma Cityans to make this reception as enthusiastic as the reception this morning. All the organizations which co-operated in the work this morning are asked to again the committee.

Arrive at 8 o'clock

The 11th Ammunition train and the 11th supply train, consisting of 1,000 men, will leave Tulsa early in the morning on the Frisco, according to the latest reports, and will get into this city at 8 o'clock. The 131st engineers, consisting of thirteen officers and 325 men, commanded by Major Ellis Stephenson of Oklahoma City, are scheduled to arrive over the Katy from Tulsa at the same time. Both units were received and paraded in Tulsa.

Members of the women's committee in charge of the flowers issued an urgent appeal to car owners and garden growers in Oklahoma City to pick every bud this afternoon, and bring them to the Liberty kitchen, before the parade starts in the morning.

Breakfasts Served.
The soldiers will be served breakfast by the Red Cross canteen service at the Liberty kitchen and will be given refreshments during the morning by the Salvation Army War Mothers and the Y. M. C. A.

The route of the parade will be the same as that followed this morning and the reviewing parties will be made up of the same individuals. The two airplanes from Fort Sill will fly low over the city, dropping flowers and taking moving pictures again tomorrow, according to Brooks.

They Traveled Kilometers, Knots and Miles to Get Here

SNAPSHOTS OF MEN OF THE 142ND INFANTRY TAKEN THIS MORNING DURING, BEFORE AND AFTER THE LAST REVIEW OF THE REGIMENT.

Ladies and gentlemen, the Times presents exclusively today pictures of the champion doughnut-servers of Oklahoma City, the champion gingerbread eaters of the American expeditionary forces, and the champion Hun-chasers of the universe, both singular and plural.

In the upper left-hand corner is a group of thirteen of the best-looking girls in Oklahoma City who served doughnuts, cigars and other edibles and smokables to members of the 142nd infantry at the Community kitchen on the site of the old Frisco depot this morning.

In the upper right-hand corner is a picture of three Oklahoma City boys with the mouths full and hands full of Y. M. C. A. gingerbread. The picture was taken while the doughboys were standing at the Y. M. C. A. refreshment booth, a short distance from the Community kitchen, this morning. In the center foreground is Miss Helen Ledbetter, in charge of the booth, flanked by three girl aides. The soldiers are Privates A. E. Sims and W. A. Stevens of Oklahoma City and Corp. V. Smith, also of this city.

In the lower left-hand corner is Corp. W. E. Bradford of Tulsa, wearing the distinguished service cross won near St. Etienne. He was wounded, but refused to go to the rear. He was then given a message to take to the back lines, in order to get him out of the fighting. On delivering the message, he started to return again to the front, but was only stopped when a lieutenant caught him and forced him to go back to the dressing station.

In the lower center is a platoon of infantrymen as they passed down Broadway north of the Rock Island tracks, and to their right is a picture of Calvin Atchavitt, a Comanche Indian, who is wearing the Belgian war cross. This was given him by the Belgian government in recognition of his service in talking his native tongue when using American wires and thus fooling the Hun wire tappers.

BULLETINS

JUARRES, Mexico, June 12.—At 1 p. m. advance forces of Gen. Felipe Angeles are moving in on Juarez via the Rio Grande river bottom.

At 1 p. m., everyone in the city was moving to safer quarters. The word went down Avenida Comercio, the main business district, that "they are coming" some even so close as two miles.

When Gen. Francis Gonzales, the Juarez commander, and Col. J. Gonzales Escobar, next in command, received the news there was intense activity among the federal troops and their officers. It is reported over 1,000 men are between two and four miles from Juarez.

Gen. Felipe Angeles knows the strength of the Juarez garrison and its fortifications.

It is believed Angeles' forces will not attempt an attack until night unless the federals move out.

EL PASO, Texas, June 12.—The Twenty-fourth United States infantry stationed at Columbus, N. M., is on a special train coming to El Paso.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 12.—After a battle with a posse headed by Sheriff Ray Smith of McDonald county, two men who robbed a hardware and clothing store at Noel, fifty miles south of Joplin, were captured last night. While being taken to the county jail at Pleville, one of the men drew a revolver and forced the sheriff to remove his handcuffs and the pair escaped. One later was recaptured by another posse.

Electricians May Not Strike

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 12.—The electrical workers are not likely to declare a nationwide telephone strike on Monday, in sympathy with the telegraph strike, it was said today at the convention of the American Federation of Labor. Officials of the union advised that no action be taken at this time.

Missouri Legislature to Meet

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 12.—Governor Gardner today called an extra session of the Missouri legislature for July 2 to ratify the suffrage amendment.

LOTTIE BAKER CRIES AS SHE TELLS OF LIFE

Woman Accused of Murder
Says Husband Was Violent.

With tears streaming down her face and her whole body shaking with sobs, Mrs. Lottie Baker told her own story of the killing of her husband on the witness stand this morning. She declared that she fired because she feared that her husband would kill her then and there.

"Where were you employed when you first met Luscio Baker?" Moman Pruett, Mrs. Baker's attorney asked.

Employed as Domestic.

"I was employed as a domestic in Paris, Ill."

"How long had you known him when you married him?"

"Two months."

"Was your husband tried and convicted on a charge of attempting a criminal assault upon your 'little niece'?"

"Yes, sir."

"Tell the jury whether you know Luscio Baker's reputation with regard to his being a dangerous, violent, turbulent character for the last two years?"

"Was, sir?"

"Was it good or bad?"

"It was bad."

"Did you ever receive any information as to his having killed anybody?"

"Yes, sir."

(Continued on Page 2, Column 2.)

NEGRO SPIRITED AWAY FROM CITY FOLLOWING FIGHT

Soldier Is Stabbed; Sheriff
Secrets Porter.

Fearing that men of the 142nd infantry might attempt to lynch Joe Smallwood, a negro rooming-house porter, who is under arrest on a charge of having cut Clarence ("Big") Mitchell badly about 3:30 o'clock this morning, Sheriff G. E. Johnson left with the negro in an automobile about 5 o'clock. The police declare that two automobiles filled with angry soldiers followed the sheriff, but Johnson says he never looked back to see whether he was being followed.

Soldier Will Recover.

Mitchell's wounds are of such a serious nature that it was feared at first that he would die, but at noon it was stated at Wesley hospital, where he was taken, that he was getting along well and would live.

Mitchell is a member of company H, 142nd infantry, and his home is in Montague, Texas. The cutting affair is said to have been a result of a quarrel over money. Mitchell suffered a number of wounds, one of which was on his neck.

Immediately after the cutting, Smallwood fled, but the police arrested him about 4 o'clock. He was taken to the county jail.

Troops At Jail.

Rumors of the cutting were passed around among men of the regiment.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

Well, Sir, Those 142nd Lads Et and Et Until The Chow Was Done for use a flock of hot rolls, a succulent streak of Oklahoma ham, a necklace of homemade doughnuts as short as piecrust and a bunch of honest-to-goodness coffee doesn't mean so much to you folks who rag the maid when the eggs are a minute overtime, but—

When you've been dosed with corn willie, canned tomatoes and indifferent java for a year or so, and finally get back in the old home state, with the daddies and mothers and wives and sweethearts of a regiment wild with happiness and you get real home chow and an invitation to come back for more, I'll say it's great!

They Sure Et.

That's the way it seemed to an innocent bystander at the old Liberty kitchen at First street and Harvey this morning where the women of the Red Cross canteen filled the stomachs of the 2,000 blessed boys of the 142nd infantry and stuffed their hearts with happiness with the smiles and tears

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

VIEWS OF THE REVIEW

Boys of the 142nd infantry were early visitors at the Y. W. C. A. said Miss Anna Louise Cole, general secretary. Many requests for stationery were made bright and early, and home letters were ready before breakfast was served, Miss Cole said.

Serg. J. B. Kelly of El Reno, company A, 142nd infantry, enjoyed a brief visit with his brother, I. D. Kelly as the train stopped at the El Reno station at 10 o'clock last night, enroute from Enid to Oklahoma City.

A squad from the United States army recruiting station went on duty at 4 o'clock this morning at the Liberty kitchen. They aided the members of the Red Cross canteen in maintaining a 100 percent service during breakfast, when 2,000 soldiers formed in line for a cafeteria breakfast.

Mrs. Ben Ragsdale sponsored a number of young girls stationed at the corner of Harvey and Main streets, who strewed flowers along the line of parade.

"Just look at Old Glory, boys; did it ever look that good to you before?" asked Frank Carter, state auditor, as he caught a glimpse of the flag flying alongside the regimental colors as the parade came down Broadway.

There was one soldier following in the rear of one platoon about the mid-

(Continued on Page 2, Column 2.)

RESOLUTION TO REJECT TREATY REPORTED OUT

Committee Eliminates European Policy Clause.

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Immediate action on the Knox league of nations resolution went a-glimmering today when the democratic minority forced the senate to adjourn until Monday without taking it up.

The agreement to adjourn was reached by the republican and democratic leaders after Senator Knox finally succeeded in securing unanimous consent to have his measure favorably reported to the senate from the senate foreign relations committee and placed on the senate calendar.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Knox's resolution to put the senate on record against accepting the league of nations in the terms of the peace treaty was reported today in an amended form by the senate foreign relations committee.

The committee struck out the section of the resolution which would declare it a policy of the American government that whenever the peace of Europe became again threatened the United States would co-operate to remove such a menace.

The motion to amend the Knox measure was made by Chairman Lodge and had the support of Senator Knox and all other republican mem-

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

SENATE VOTES RATE POWER TO COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Without a record vote, the senate today passed the bill of Senator Cummings, republican of Iowa, amending the railroad control act so as to restore the rate-making powers of the interstate commerce commission. The measure now goes to the house.

DEY TALKS BOUT SOME FOLK'S 'CREDIT IS GOOD EN SOME IS BAD, BUT SHUCKS! -- ENNY KIN O' CREDIT AM GITS LOOKS GOOD T' ME!

Col. A. W. Bloor, who commanded the unit in France and his adjutant, Captain Fields of Paul Valley, mounted, and the Second Oklahoma National Guard regiment band led the parade. Starting from Eighth street the march proceeded south to Main, then west to the court house, back east on Grand avenue to First and then to the cars.

The men marched in column platoon fashion, two columns of from sixteen to twenty men abreast constituting a platoon.

Officials on Stand.

Acting Governor Trapp, Mayor Walton, Chief of Police Smith, General Harry Pentecost and Adjutant General Barrett of the Oklahoma National Guard and other national guard officers occupying an automobile came down Broadway at the head of the parade and then took their places in the reviewing stand.

"Wouldn't you hate to see that bunch of steel-jawed fighters come up you?" No wonder Germany asked for peace," said the acting governor as he eyed the first company that passed the reviewing stand. All along the line of march similar comment was heard as the spectators commented upon the appearance of the men.

Captains of each company saluted as they passed the reviewing stand and the salute was returned by the senior officers.

"Eyes right," was the order of the platoon commanders as the men passed the reviewing stands with eyes fixed on the reviews.

Needs Are Bared.

All heads in the reviewing stand were bared as the men went by. The regimental colors were saluted by officers and heads were bared as the color bearers passed.

Flowers Underfoot.

A motor truck carrying two young girls dressed in white gowns

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

FLOWERS IN STREETS AS MEN MARCH

Governor and General Hoffman Fail to Arrive.

PLANES THRILL THROGHS

Forty Thousand People See
Oklahoma Veterans.

BULLETIN.

The first section of the 142nd infantry left Oklahoma City shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon on its way to Camp Bowie, Texas. The next was to leave 15 minutes later, and the remaining three at 15-minute intervals.

Two thousand bronzed sons of Oklahoma and Texas, veterans and heroes of the great world war, marched in review through the damp streets of Oklahoma City today amidst an avalanche of flowers and applause from the wall of cheering humanity that lined the course of the parade.

40,000 See March.

A crowd estimated at 40,000 people that lined the streets and filled the windows and roofs of downtown office and hotel buildings saw the same men, the same guns and the same glittering bayonets of steel that faced the Germans in the Argonne offensive go by under the leadership of their illustrious commander, Col. A. W. Bloor.

Governor Robertson and Gen. Roy Hoffman, who was the commander of the 142nd, when it was the old Oklahoma first regiment of national guards, failed to reach the city from the east in time to witness the parade.

Acting Gov. Ed Trapp, Gen. Harry Pentecost, members of the supreme court, high state officials and national

More Troops Tomorrow

The 11th engineers, the 11th supply train and the 131st machine gun battalion will arrive in Oklahoma City tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

All three units will hold a joint parade, following the same route as followed this morning at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Flowers should be picked this afternoon and delivered at the Liberty kitchen up until parade time Friday morning.

All units will leave this city at noon tomorrow.

guard officers occupied the official reviewing stand and with bared heads cheered and applauded the returned warriors as they marched by.

Col. A. W. Bloor, who commanded the unit in France and his adjutant, Captain Fields of Paul Valley, mounted, and the Second Oklahoma National Guard regiment band led the parade. Starting from Eighth street the march proceeded south to Main, then west to the court house, back east on Grand avenue to First and then to the cars.

The men marched in column platoon fashion, two columns of from sixteen to twenty men abreast constituting a platoon.

Officials on Stand.

Acting Governor Trapp, Mayor Walton, Chief of Police Smith, General Harry Pentecost and Adjutant General Barrett of the Oklahoma National Guard and other national guard officers occupying an automobile came down Broadway at the head of the parade and then took their places in the reviewing stand.

"Wouldn't you hate to see that bunch of steel-jawed fighters come up you?" No wonder Germany asked for peace," said the acting governor as he eyed the first company that passed the reviewing stand. All along the line of march similar comment was heard as the spectators commented upon the appearance of the men.

Captains of each company saluted as they passed the reviewing stand and the salute was returned by the senior officers.

"Eyes right," was the order of the platoon commanders as the men passed the reviewing stands with eyes fixed on the reviews.

Needs Are Bared.

All heads in the reviewing stand were bared as the men went by. The regimental colors were saluted by officers and heads were bared as the color bearers passed.

Flowers Underfoot.

A motor truck carrying two young girls dressed in white gowns

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

(Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)